New polymer tenant moving into Port

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

New tenants are settling into temporary quarters at Hancock County's Port Bienville industrial park while engineers are designing plans for their high-performance polymer plant.

At the July 5 meeting of the Board of Supervisors, the Board approved plans to lease four offices at the rear of the John M. McDonald Training Center to Mississippi Polymer technologies, Inc., while plans are being developed for their buildings on an 80-acre tract of land next to Calgon Corp. on the southeast side of the industrial parkway. The office would be used by an initial staff of eight.

At last Monday's meeting of the Port and Harbor Commission, Port Executive Director Hal Walters told Commissioners five employees had already been hired, and two more are expected to come in from the firm's headquarters in California to begin setting up shop.

Walters said Compton Engineering, Inc., has been hired to design an 18,000-square-foot metal building and a 2,000-square-foot storage building. Construction is expected to be completed in early 2001.

Longo pays $20 grand for audit, back wages

BY BENNIE WEDGWOOD
Staff Writer

Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo said this week he made a $20,000 payment to State Auditor Phil Bryant through his attorney Frank P. Whitman III's trust account for repayment of mayoral salary, mileage, interest and investigator charges.

The salary repaid represents the salary Longo received while working as a counselor for Gulf Coast Mental Health after his election to office.

"It was never my intention to break the law," said Longo. "I truly thought that I was handling my break with Gulf Coast Mental Health in the best way possible for my new position as Mayor and for the patients that were depending on me ... when you win the election you literally take office the next day ... and of course I felt a sense of loyalty to the people. I was counseling and working for up till then."

"But if I had thought that I was breaking the law in any way by any continued employment, or thought that I was neglecting my new duties as Mayor, I would have handled it in a different way ... of course Gulf Coast would not have wanted that either."

"If I made a mistake, then I will admit it, but I'm still not sure what I could have done differently ... but somewhere along the line what I understood I could do and what the state auditor understood I could do got mixed up."

Longo was a counselor at Gulf Coast Mental Health at the time he was elected.

City Attorney Ronnie Artigues said that it was never something that Longo tried to hide.

"He announced it at the staff meeting that he needed time to Supporters of this weekend's St. Paul's Seafood Festival in Pass Christian have made advance plans to shield fairgoers from the stifling heat.

Alderman-at-Large Leo "Chipper" McDermott said

Tuesday that he had obtained a 16-foot by 120-foot tent for use by diners, and work crews were installing it on the fairgrounds fronting the beach directly across from St. Paul's Catholic Church.

Across Scenic Drive, crews were also erecting carnival rides, which is a popular pastime for fairgoers.

This year's 24th annual Seafood Festival, the chief fundraiser for St. Paul's Church, promises to be a weekend of good fun and good food.

Lawrence E. Shoupe

Missing patient found in Mallini Bayou

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

An alert boater Monday found an elderly Alzheimer's patient drowned in Mallini Bayou not far from his Henderson Point home.

Sheriff's department ground, air and boat patrols launched an extensive search for Lawrence E. Shoupe on Saturday when a relative reported he had wandered from his home. Neighborhood boaters also joined in the search.

About 2 p.m. Monday, Lynn Goutierrez, who was on the bayou with her husband and sister, came upon Shoupe's body floating in Mallini Bayou off Cherry Lane.

The Harrison County Sheriff's department put out a computerized message Sunday describing Shoupe and what his relatives said he was wearing when he disappeared.

Goutierrez said she knew to look for a red shirt, and feared it was Shoupe when she spotted the body.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the exact cause of death.

Shoupe's wife, Norma, said he would have been 80 years old on Monday. He had wandered from home last June, but sheriff's deputies found him less than a mile from their home.

Harrison County Sheriff George Payne praised the combined effort of deputies and neighbors who joined in the massive search.

"It was a real good neighborhood effort," Payne said. "If there's a bright spot to this story, that's it."

Visitation for the late Mr. Shoupe will be at 1 p.m. Friday at Riemann Funeral Home in Pass Christian, with a funeral service at 2 p.m.

Arthur and Leverage Clementin met as students at the old Valena C. Jones School, which held its school reunion over the weekend. The couple reunited and married each other years after graduation.

High school sweethearts reminisce at Valena C. Jones class reunion

BY BENNIE WEDGWOOD
Staff Writer

For Arthur and Leverage Clementin, the Valena C. Jones Class Reunion this past weekend held special meaning. The couple, who graduated in 1965 and 67, respectively, went through school together and then went their separate ways. Arthur moved to Michigan, where he taught school and became principal of the voc-tech department at his school in Jackson. Leverage stayed here in Bay St. Louis but never forgot Arthur. After Arthur became a widower he got in touch with Leverage, who was also available, and the couple was married on April 1. Arthur will remain in Michigan until next year, when he will retire, a 33 year veteran of teaching, then move here to join his Leverage.

"Then Leverage's only job will be to take care of me," Arthur said.

The reunion of the Tigers was a time of memories on Saturday night at the dinner/dance held in the old Gymnasium behind what is now the Bay St. Louis Police Department. The beautifully decorated

Blood emergency please donate

The American Red Cross Gulf Coast Region now has just over a one-day supply of blood, far less than the three-day supply considered a "safe" level for handling unforeseen emergencies. The National Emergency Blood Appeal issued by the American Red Cross continues with 22 regions of the country reporting less than a one-day supply.

Locally, there is less than a half-day supply of O negative and A negative blood types, and less than a day's supply of O positive and B positive blood types.

Gulf Coast Region Executive Director Linda Rapp is asking for volunteers to organize blood drives, and offer to take their neighbors to donor centers or local blood drives.

"I know there are volunteers out there who may have organized a drive in the spring who might be able to put together another drive for their community now," said Rapp.

"Individuals and volunteers organizers can call 1-800-Give Life and schedule donation times," Rapp said.

The Gulf Coast Region of the American Red Cross schedules blood drives throughout southern and central Alabama, southern Mississippi, and western Florida on a daily basis.

Reunion -- Valena C. Jones

tables were filled with laughing, talking people all dressed in their finest as people ran across the gym to hug yet another old friend or teacher or student.

An endless array of food was served buffet style, the only drawback to the whole affair being that the old gym had no air conditioning on one of the warmest nights of the summer. But even this inconvenience seemed to just serve to bring everyone together as they fanned themselves with their programs and talked about old times.

Guest speaker, Roger James, recalled that in 1955 the gym was brand new and he scored two points in a basketball game and then went on to more serious issues.

"We are here tonight," James said, "not by a haphazard effort ... We are here because we rode here on the backs of a long line of men and women who were dedicated educators, who loved children, and who worked endless, tireless hours for very little money, because they saw a future for us, they loved their work."

"Now you and I say we have made it, we saw rough times and the rough side of the mountain and we have made it-but have we made it? There are more teen pregnancies, more people in jail, more drugs, more poverty and less church attendance than ever before in history ... so have we made it," James said.

"We've come a long way, but we have a long way to go, so please when you go home, remember this, and how you got here and continue the work to make things better," James concluded.

1948 graduate, Gloria Payne recalls attending school in a two story wooden structure that burned down. After that the elementary school students were housed in Mt. Carmels Church while the older students attended school in the Odd Fellow's Hall. Neither structure still stands. Payne graduated from the Odd Fellow's Hall because the new school wasn't finished yet. Neither building still stands and the 1949 class went into the last location in the building that now houses Bay St. Louis Police Department.

"When the school burned I told my parents that I would just get a job, but they insisted that I finished school," said Payne. "The teachers back then were dedicated, and they saw that you learned ... if a page was missing from a book, they would copy the page on the blackboard; if you couldn't afford your supplies, they would take money out of their own pockets to get them for you."

Payne said that the school played basketball games at the 100 Men's Pavilion near the railroad tracks.

The last graduating class of Valena C. Jones School, in 1969 had 25 members and at this time the high school was closed. A free choice system had been in place since the 1966-67 school year allowing students to choose to attend previously all white schools and an increasing number of students chose to do so.

By 1969 only about 75 students remained in the high school and the school board voted to close the school.

Valena C. Jones was born in Bay St. Louis in 1872 as Valena Cecelia MacArthur and began her teaching career in rural Mississippi in 1890.

She was revered for her work in education and the community and a school in New Orleans was also named in her honor as well as The Valena C. Jones Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis. Her husband, the Reverend Robert E. Jones was the Resident Bishop of the New Orleans area Methodist Episcopal Church.

close on some of his cases and said that he would work overtime to make sure that nothing in the city was neglected, and asked if anyone had a problem with it ... as near as I can recall, not one person spoke up to say they had a problem with it, including aldermen ... and as far as I know there was no conflict with our city ordinances for him to do this," said Artigues.

Artigues said that he never had a problem reaching Mayor Longo during this period.

"He always returned my phone calls immediately and this was not just during business hours," said Artigues. "It was anytime from 6:30 a.m. till 10 p.m. or later."

Longo says that he is serious about his duties as mayor and that he has attended every meeting, workshop, special meeting, and board meeting or any meetings required of him.

"The city is a priority to me and always has been," said Longo.

"What really hurts me is how this has affected my family, they are the ones who have been really hurt by all this ... but they and a lot of people have stood by me through all this and they have made all the difference in the world, they have made it worth it to go on.

Longo voluntarily gave up all city stipends such as a city car last fall in hopes, he said that the focus could get off of issues such as where he bought his gas and get focused on where it should be, on making Waveland a better place to live.

Traffic congestion is something we never had to worry about for many years, but it is becoming a serious problem, especially on U.S. Highway 90.

The Highway 90 at Drinkwater intersection is just a nightmare.

I have personally met two vehicles traveling down the wrong lane of Drinkwater.

So many people now make U-turns to get to the new hamburger shop as well as the inn next door.

We keep hearing about a new design at the intersection and that a new traffic survey is going to be taken. That is all well and good, but unless something is done, there will be more serious accidents at the intersection of U.S. Highway 90 and Drinkwater.

One must remember that there are a lot of residents and senior drivers (goodness, I am one of them) who use the intersection to visit the hospital and doctors' offices of the area. The Walking Track also creates traffic from those who are trying to remain healthy.

Someone or some group needs to step forward and get whoever is necessary to solve the serious traffic congestion at the intersection.

Our Hancock County Board of Supervisors is trying to get into line for some Tideland Funds for the year 2002, which will be here in no time at all.

Gulf Regional Planning Commission makes the grant applications for county recreational facilities.

The expansion of the Bayou Caddy Marina is needed for sports fishermen. Expansion of the Dunbar Avenue pier is number two on the priority list.

Number three is the Curtis Johnson Boat Launch in the NASA buffer zone.

Fourth is to build a public pier in the Clermont Harbor/Lakeshore area. I can recall the public pier in Clermont Harbor. It was a very popular facility in years gone by.

Fifth on the priority list is the purchase of a patrol boat for the sheriff's office. We have a lot of water in our area, and there are times when officials need water craft to answer problems.

Hancock County supervisors never received any Tidelands Funds the last go-around, so they are hoping to be in line for the next allocation.

Of course, matching funds are also needed to secure Tidelands Funds, and the supervisors have made arrangements to have the matches in dollars and in-kind services.

Recreation is very important in Hancock County. There are a lot of fishing and water activities which cover a wide spectrum of our population in one way or another.

Saturday is the football game we have been waiting for.

It will be a pre-season contest between the Gulf Coast StingRays, headquartered in Hancock County, against the Memphis Samurais.

The game is set for Saturday, July 15, 3 p.m. at Hancock High's Hawk Stadium on Stennis Drive near the Stennis International Airport.

Admission for the pre-game is $3 per person.

Matt Karl is the general manager for the StingRays and the season's opener will be in Baton Rouge on Saturday, July 29, against Baton Rouge.

The home game opener will be on Saturday, August 5, 7:30 p.m. at the St. Stanislaus Stadium, Bookter Street, Bay St. Louis. The Louisiana Hurricanes will be in town to against the StingRays.

This is the first season for the Gulf Coast StingRays and it is hoped they will received good local fan support.

MISSISSIPPI'S BETSY ROSS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Loss has owner urging pet owners to take care of pets

Dear Editor:

This letter should be of interest to owners of pets.

Quite recently, I lost my pet and faithful friend of 10 years. He is, or was, a very gentle-natured and older Chinese Pug named Monster.

I have tried everything to locate him: ads, posters and constant searching. To no avail.

At the animal shelter I was told: "There are a lot of people missing pets recently." In the paper there are ads about a number of missing pets and sad stories. One such ad stated: "Lost small male dog, only one back leg, family pet since a pup. Please call..."

My hope is that my dog is being cared for, but the uncertainty of what may have and may still be happening to my pet is chilling.

Should anyone know the whereabouts or persons responsible for these missing pets, please contact the Humane Society.

To anyone who may be abducting these pets and family members: please stop, for surely the law of man, Karma or God will avenge these helpless animals and heart-broken owners.

To pet owners: watch and care for them as you would if they were your children, because they are your dependents and depend entirely on you. To St. Francis of Assisi, patron saint of animals: I pray for their return.

Sincerely Sad,
Mario Legorreta
Bay St. Louis

Bay cleanup efforts good, but clear-cutting Hwy. trees bad

Dear Editor:

I was delighted to read the recent letter to the editor regarding clean-up in Old Town Bay Saint Louis.

I was even more pleased to see the almost instant results. Clean-up crews and street cleaners were out and working within a few days!

However, of greater concern is the recent rash of development on Highway 90. Contractors seem to have no regard at all for leaving existing trees in place or in landscaping parking areas.

New buildings are completely surrounded by black asphalt, with only a few token azaleas planted as an anemic afterthought.

For example, in Waveland, at the intersection of 603 and 90, an enormous parcel of land was completely scraped clean of any vegetation.

As the site is still under construction, it remains to be seen if any trees will be replanted.

Worse yet, a wooded site (ironically situated next to Evergreen Nursery) was totally clear-cut. For a few days, it looked as if some trees would be left standing, but soon even those sorry survivors were knocked over.

And there are no signs of forthcoming construction! Are the owners out-of-state developers who have no regard for our community?

Surely there must have been some live oaks and/or magnolias on both parcels. As I understand it, these trees are protected by law. Who actually polices development sites in Waveland/Bay St. Louis?

If someone cuts down our protected trees, are they required to replace them on the same property? What landscaping policies exist in either or both communities?

I'd appreciate any information on these matters. We're at a critical apex now and can use other communities that have strict landscaping laws, as resources and examples.

Areas that have strictly enforced such laws (as in requiring so many trees per parking space) have an attractive look that instills pride in residents and businesses alike, ultimately benefiting everyone.

Our natural beauty is one of our biggest assets, and it deserves our affection and protection.

Sincerely,
Ellis Anderson
Bay St. Louis

FROM THE SENATE

By U.S. Senator
Trent Lott

A realistic energy policy

I have written several times during recent months about America's lack of a national energy policy. This is an issue about which I am very concerned. America's dependence on foreign oil directly threatens our national security and our freedom.

This is why I hope to again bring this issue to the Senate floor in September. In the wake of July 4th holiday traveling and its high cost this year, the message is even clearer: we must act now or face even higher energy prices.

While I will certainly not defend oil companies, the problem goes much deeper.

Americans should know that 40 cents on every gallon of gasoline sold in our country is composed of taxes.

Government has contributed to the current costs of fuel. Therefore, government has the power to offset the cost of energy.

Earlier this year, I brought this issue before the Senate with a proposal to temporarily suspend the 4.3 cent per-gallon federal tax on gasoline.

This is a tax which the Senate only reluctantly approved in 1993 by the slimmest of votes. Vice-President Al Gore was even called to the Senate floor to cast the tie-breaking vote, and, consistent with his philosophy, he voted for this tax.

Seven years down the road, with energy prices skyrocketing, the Senate refused to consider removing the 4.3 cent tax, even for a short time.

I think the Senate made a mistake. This tax, though seemingly small, really adds up, especially for small businessmen and truckers who use our roads for a living.

However, my proposal for this September goes a lot further than the rethinking of one tax. The Energy Security Act seeks an overall goal: to reduce America's dependence on foreign oil to 50 percent by 2010, down from almost 60 percent dependency today.

It provides incentives for the use of natural gas - a fuel which can burn cleanly in internal combustion engines, and which is abundant within our own borders.

It also calls on America to utilize other domestic resources through incentives which encourage the use of marginal oil wells like many in South and Central Mississippi, and the billions of barrels of oil we have in Alaska.

Tapping these resources is a realistic way to initially reduce our dependence on foreign oil.

Likewise, this measure does not ignore the use of renewable energy resources, such as solar power, hydro power, or wind power.

However, we must acknowledge that America cannot realistically run only on renewable energy resources overnight - and this is where I part ways with the Clinton/Gore administration.

I mentioned natural gas earlier as a clean alternative for use in automobiles. Yet, this administration seems unwilling to consider its use, and, of course, they are opposed to drilling domestic oil resources.

They propose to skip the obvious first step of reducing dependency, which most people believe is to concentrate initially on our domestic oil and gas resources.

Instead the Clinton/Gore alternative is apparently an almost immediate switch to renewable energy. If the Vice-President has his way, it seems he would continue raising the costs of fuel to American consumers through taxation in a callous plan to force Americans to downgrade their well-earned lifestyle.

Consider a book called The Population Explosion. Its authors assert that Americans should pay radically higher energy taxes, suggesting that the U.S. government "could start by gradually imposing a higher gasoline tax - hiking it by one or two cents per month, until gasoline costs $2 to $3 per gallon, comparable to prices in Europe in Japan."

Vice-President Gore's apparent endorsement of this book on the cover says that these authors have "written a prescription" for our energy woes. That is not a real prescription, only an unrealistic dream. America is not Europe or Japan. Unlike them, we do not have to be dependent on countries like Iraq, Iran and Saudi Arabia for oil.

We have untapped resources. Unlike them, our country is geographically large with many rural areas which depend on affordable automobile transport.

Energy helps power America's freedom and to sustain our national security. America badly needs a comprehensive but realistic national energy policy, and we need it now.

County plans to advertise new recycling contract

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

A tenant already operating out of Port Bienville might be the catalyst to improving recycling in Hancock County.

The county's Regional Solid Waste Authority held its July meeting Tuesday, and heard a presentation from George Graves, director of Hancock Industries at Port Bienville. The firm operates as a division of the state Mental Health Department, providing jobs to the physically and mentally handicapped.

Hancock Industries received the Chamber of Commerce coveted "Industry of the Year" award in 1998, and has since doubled the size of its assembly plant and added another 35 people to its work force.

Graves told Commissioners some years ago he entertained getting Hancock Industries involved in the recycling effort, but decided against it after looking at the investment involved in collecting and packaging recyclable.

Just recently, Graves said he visited a sheltered workshop in Natchez and another recycling operation in Starkville.

He said Hancock Industries was currently recycling plastics from the Wellman plant at Port Bienville. Workers are packaging plastic residue for shipment by boat to China, he said.

"I'm willing to look at the feasibility of providing recycling services for the District," said Graves. I would prefer not to get into actual curbside collection."

He said he understands recycling is a "labor intensive" industry, and it may be possible to enter into a joint venture with Goodwill Industries or some other organization, and to go after some federal grants for recycling.

Commissioner were enthusiastic over Graves' presentation, especially since the Authority's contract with its present recycler is set to expire at the end of this coming September.

Currently, there is no recycling in rural areas of the county, but the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the Diamondhead community has once-a-week pickup of plastics and other recyclable materials.

Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo has contended in previous meetings that Mississippi Resorsys of Gulfport has not done enough to increase recycling in his town, and has not gone to area schools promoting recycling.

And, Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre complained, although approximately one million pounds of recycling materials was collected last year, the cost was prohibitive.

He said the current recycling program is costing the Authority about $180,000 a year and the materials could have been disposed of in a landfill for about $10,000.

Commissioners authorized consultant Bill Johnson to finalize specifications to put a new recycling contract out to public bid.

The current charge for recycling is per household, but Favre said he would like to have the new contract provide some kind of "incentive" that rewards a contractor who increases participation.

Johnson asked Graves if he would consider taking over collections if the authority provided a vehicle and Graves said he would consider it.

Mississippi ResorSys President Larry Kehrer told

Commissioners at the last meeting transportation was increasing the cost of recycling because his trucks must come in from Gulfport, then bring the recyclable materials back to his packaging plant in Gulfport.

In other business, the Authority voted to hire Compton Engineering on a six-month trial basis to take care of the day-to-day business of the Authority at a cost of $500 monthly. Dina Hitt, the Authority's Administrator, has resigned effective July 31.

Commissioners authorized Johnson to send on to the state Department of Environmental Quality plans to amend Hancock County's Solid Waste Plan to allow three more rubbish sites south of Interstate 10.

The Authority held a public hearing on the proposals June 22, and Johnson reported only three people showed up, and no one spoke in opposition.

approval to put the building out to public bid once design specifications are completed. He also recommended the Commission, in the meantime, get bids to clear timber off the 80-acre site, although initially the manufacturing plant would occupy only seven acres.

Plans are for the Port Commission to enter into a lease-purchase agreement with Mississippi Polymer Technologies, Inc., once the building is constructed. In order to lure the new tenant to the industrial park, the Commission applied for and received a $500,000 state capital improvement loan to construct the building.

The firm's parent company, Maxdem, Inc. has operated a research firm in California for the past 12 years, and holds several patents. It's Port Bienville spinoff represents its first foray into manufacturing.

Last September the office of U.S. Sen. Trent Lott identified Maxdem as the front-runner for $5.5 million appropriated by Congress in the Defense Authorization Bill. The funds were set aside to develop two technologies being developed by Maxdem.

No further word has come from Lott's office on whether Maxdem will be awarded the research contract.

The firm has research underway to produce a foam core for structural use in aircraft and to create lightweight, high-performance polymer resin to run the next generation of Army vehicles and equipment.

Walters estimated the company's initial investment for land, buildings and equipment would be between $4 and $5 million, and the firm could eventually employ up to 50 people.

Beach Blvd., from the entrance to Buccaneer State Park to I-10 Street in Clermont Harbor, will be closed starting tomorrow, Monday, for around 60-90 days for repairs. Motorists can enter and leave Buccaneer only by Beach Blvd. coming from Waveland. Detours will be marked coming from Bayou Caddy.

Benefit account set up at bank for O'Gwinns

A benefit account has been set up at Hancock Bank to help the family of Howard O'Gwinns, who is in U.S.A. Medical Center for treatments for third-degree burns he suffered in a boating accident.

O'Gwinns, of Waveland, is an employee of Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, but will not be able to work for several months due to his extreme injuries.

Private bankers map course to client wealth

Navigating today's virtual sea of financial planning options can pose colossal challenges for even the most financially savvy individual; charting the right wealth management course can mean the difference between sunny financial horizons or rough seas ahead.

Enter your very own Hancock Bank private banker to take the helm, with his or her holistic, relationship-based approach to mapping a wealth management strategy that ensures smooth financial sailing for you and your family.

"A private banker is to wealth management what a general contractor is to renovating an old home," said Clay Wagner, Hancock Bank vice president and private banking manager.

"At Hancock Bank, we help clients centralize and simplify financial management by finding products and services that grow, protect and preserve their financial portfolios."

According to Wagner, private banking brings to clients' doorsteps convenient, confidential, good old-fashioned personal attention and financial guidance.

Targeting clients with high-income investment assets, private banking is an exclusive, fully integrated service designed to match more affluent clients with sophisticated products, services and experts that make finances less taxing – literally and figuratively.

"Our private bankers make our clients' lives easier. We save them time, suggest new ways to improve their current and future financial situations, help control risks, and help distribute their funds in the most tax-advantaged ways during their lifetime and for their survivors," said Wagner.

Hancock private banking trust and investments expert Mike Guidry said a smaller client base allows private bankers to devote more time to clients, using exceptional service, broadbased professional knowledge and one-on-one conversation to identify and address a client's particular needs.

Guidry, a certified public accountant with over 25 years banking experience, said private bankers can introduce clients to an array of bank products and services – from basic deposit accounts and personal loans to brokerage services, investment management, trusts, and estate and retirement planning.

"We're a clearinghouse, coordinating entire lines of premier financial services and ensuring one advisor is carefully crafting a client's whole financial picture," said Guidry.

"In private banking, we handle the guesswork and the paperwork for clients, but we're not transaction oriented. We're objective, product-neutral and committed to a level of gracious, old-fashioned service that is second to none," he added.

Wagner, Guidry, private banking coordinator Cathy Whitlock and three new private bankers help tailor wealth management plans for scores of successful Coastians.

Former Hancock Bank community relations director Marilyn Brown joined Hancock's private banking team with 10 years' experience in the financial services industry.

With a master of business administration degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, Brown is also a 1997 Leadership Gulf Coast graduate.

She is a recognized leader in numerous Gulf Coast organizations, including the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce, Public Relations Association of Mississippi (PRAM), Kids Voting, Partners In Education, Lynn Meadows Discovery Center, United Way, Boys and Girls Club, the George E. Ohr Cultural Center and the Gulfport Junior Auxiliary.

Kristi Davis, a Hancock private banker from Gulfport, received a bachelor of business administration degree from The University of Mississippi and graduated from the Mississippi School of Banking at Ole Miss.

Davis managed the $34 million daily operations at Hancock's Poppo's Ferry branch and served as an associate commercial and consumer lender.

Pascagoula native Davis is currently enrolled in both the Cannon Private Banking School and the College for Financial Planning. She joined Hancock Bank in 1992.

Davis is active in the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce and St. Jude's Hospital "Captured for Kids" program.

Private banker and Wiggins native Ric Williams managed Hancock's Biloxi branch and helped secure commercial, installment and real estate loans for area customers as a bank loan officer.

A Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and Mississippi State University alumnus, Williams holds a master of business administration from William Carey College and graduated from the prestigious Cannon Financial Institute private banking school.

Fellow Biloxi Lion's Club members named Williams 1999 "Rookie of the Year," and he served as Boy Scouts of America 1999 District Expo chairperson.

A Junior Achievement instructor, Williams also teaches Sunday school at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

"Because of their exceptional banking experience and community involvement, our private bankers know and understand our clients. Our clients have achieved a level of financial success that entitles them to expect and receive unparalleled private banking service," said Wagner.

Hancock Holding Company, the parent company of Hancock Bank (Mississippi) and Hancock Bank of Louisiana, has assets of $3 billion.

Founded in 1899, Hancock Bank stands as one of the strongest, safest financial institutions in the United States, according to Veribanc, Inc. Bauer Financial Reports, Inc., also awarded Hancock Bank five-stars – the highest rating possible – for 19 consecutive quarters.

Hancock Bank operates 92 full-service offices and 130 automated teller machines throughout South Mississippi and Louisiana.

He has led the effort to strengthen the cooperation between the member organizations in the five coastal cities and evaluate the changing role the Chamber should play in a growing economy.

Through his leadership, Dennis is refocusing and strengthening the vision of the organization to better serve the citizens of Harrison County.

During his tenure as a member of the Harrison County Development Commission, which oversees the county's four industrial parks, he served as chairman of the Engineering and Maintenance Committee.

Dupuy blisters MMP oval for easy victory

By Melvin Breland

It was a hot and humid Saturday night at Mississippi Motorsports Park, even the flag that flew at half mast in honor of Kenny Irwin hung limp from the pole. A good crowd of race fans were on hand to witness some hot action on the MMP oval.

Michael Dupuy made it a clean sweep, winning both heat and feature races in his familiar yellow moon eyes double zero winged sprint race car.

Dupuy found the right combination for the MMP oval and proceeded to blister the track for a comfortable feature win.

Shane Morgan chased Dupuy to the checkers, but could not challenge for the lead. Kelly Angelette was one of the few to improve his position by moving past Mike Miller for the third place finish.

Phil Howard won the clean sweep award in the Pure Street division by timing in on the pole and winning both the heat and feature races.

Roger Ladner finished second while James Dean held off Bill Ladner for the third spot.

Wesley Fletcher was making a serious challenge for the lead before mechanical problems ended his hopes for the win.

Bill Stewart, who had won every Pure Street feature this season, was noticeably absent from the field. Stewart stepped down from racing at MMP after taking on the Friday night tech job.

Donald Parker had a perfect night winning both heat and feature races in the Pro Stock division.

Parker claimed his second feature in a row by holding off a hard-charging Ronnie Roberts for the win. While Roberts was challenging Parker he was also being harassed by third place finisher Mike Palliou.

Mike Ladner and Jeremy Broadus rounded out the top five in a strong field of Pro Stocks.

Lonnie Scarbrough was another driver with a perfect night as he dominated the Street Stock class in both heat and feature races. Scarbrough moved away from the field for a comfortable win in both heat and feature races.

Noah Daspit finished a solid second followed by Danny Lee and Joey Dillard.

Tracy Brown took advantage of Bryan Foy's misfortune of being penalized for not going directly to tech after winning his heat race. Foy had to start on the rear while Brown moved to the pole starting spot.

Brown led every lap of the Dixie Sportman feature while Foy was working his way through traffic for a second place finish. Chris Wall finished third over Michael Williams and Randy Deshamp.

Keith Miller won both heat and feature races in the Late Model division by holding of the challenges of Ricky Hankins and Wayne Martin.

Miller came out of turn two in the lead and was never headed as he made his way to the checkers. Jeff Cooper and Verlon Lee rounded out the top five.

StingRays ready for first NFL game Saturday

BY DWAYNE BREMER

Are you ready for some football?

The Gulf Coast StingRays are, as they prepare to play their first ever NFL game this Saturday.

"We have come a long way," said head coach Matt Karl. "It should be exciting to see where we stand."

The StingRays will play host to the Memphis Samurais in an NFL pre-season game on Saturday at Hancock High School field. Kickoff is set for 3 p.m.

The Samurais have played five pre-season games so far, and they have compiled a record of 4-1. This is the StingRays only pre-season game, as the regular season starts on July 29. "We chose to get our guys in shape, and to practice a lot," Karl said. "Next year, we might play two or three pre-season games, but I think six is too many. We did not want to risk injury or to tire our guys out."

Karl is confident that his team will be able to handle the extreme heat. Saturday temperatures are expected to be in the mid-90s. "We had a good three-hour workout last Saturday, and I think these guys can handle it," Karl added.

The StingRays will not announce their starting lineup until Saturday.

Gates will open at 2 p.m. on Saturday, and admissions will be $3.

"These guys have worked really hard, and your support will be greatly appreciated," Karl said.

Browne & Doyle give double dose to Rangers in 53-34 win

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Mississippi Fire Dogs welcomed the Louisiana Rangers into the Dog House on Saturday, July 8, but sent them packing on a long trip back home with a 53-34 victory. With the win Mississippi is now 7-5 and is in sole possession of second place in the IPFL rankings. The Fire Dogs have won six out of their last seven games after starting the season 1-4. The next game for the Fire Dogs is at home against the top ranked team from Portland on Saturday, July 15. Currently, the Fire Dogs trail Portland by a 1/2 game. If Mississippi wins by more than one point, then they will have sole possession of first place.

The key to the Fire Dogs' dominating win over Louisiana was Buster Browne's bruising running and Bobby Doyle's tenacious defense. Browne broke loose for three scores while Doyle tallied nine tackles on the night and a key pass break-up in the end zone late in the game.

Also, team owner Donald Rafferty challenged the offensive line to a bet for what he felt would be the key to the game before 3,050 fans. Rafferty stated, "I spoke with the offensive line before the game and offered them a bet. I bet the line a steak dinner if quarterback John Fourcade was not sacked, but, I backed the bet up by saying each sack they allowed, the line would owe me a steak dinner." Well, Rafferty owes a steak dinner to the offensive line because Fourcade never came close to allowing a sack. Judging by the looks of the line, it is a good thing the bet wasn't for a buffet dinner. Whoever said owners don't shell out the bucks. This one does!

The scoring started off early and got to a frenzy pace before the end of the game. Louisiana started off the scoring three plays into their first possession. Doug Coleman connected with running back Byron Allen for a 10-yard touchdown pass with 12:14 remaining in the first half. The extra point by Joe Valencia was no good leaving the score 6-0.

The Fire Dogs came right back on their first possession and struck paydirt when Tim Hardaway nailed a 24-yard field goal to make the score 6-2 with 7:21 left in the first quarter.

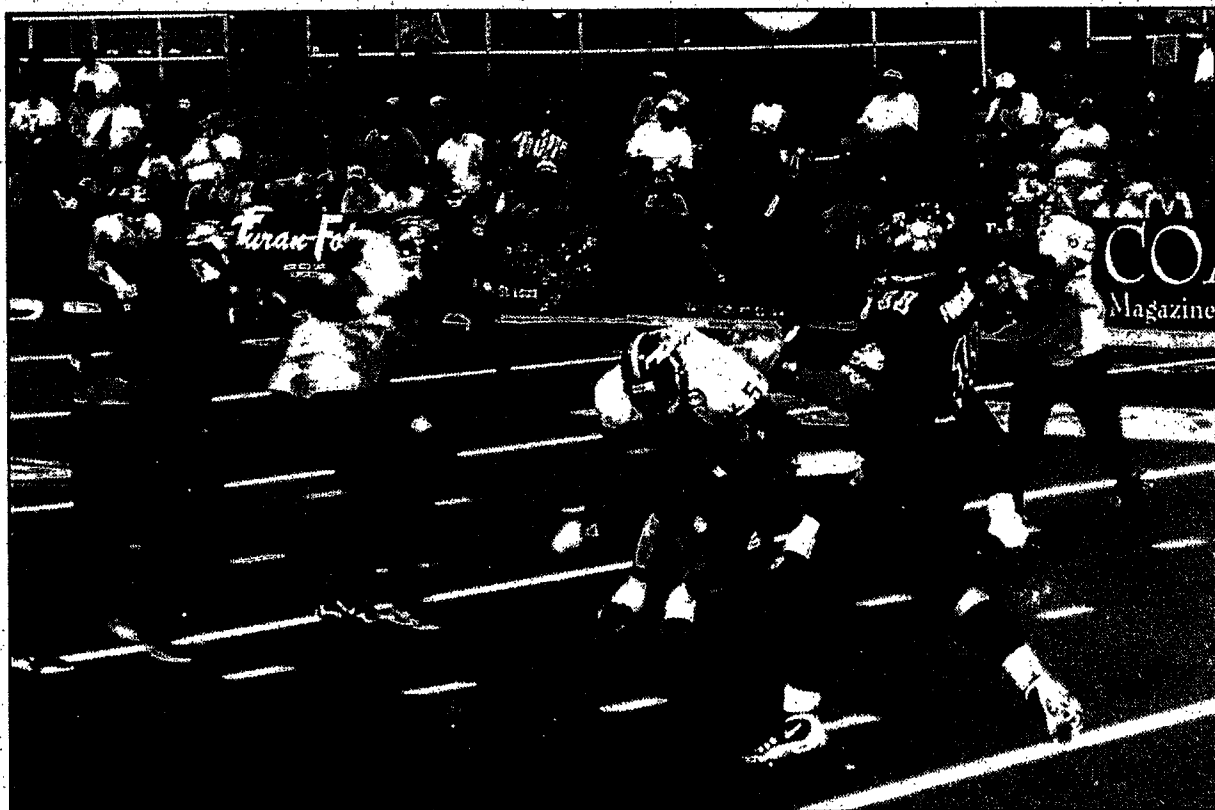

After trying to chip away at yardage, the Rangers had to settle for a 46-yard field goal that sailed wide right at the 3:23 mark of the first quarter. It took the Fire Dogs just two plays to take the lead when Browne scored his first touchdown of the night with a 2-yard run with 2:22 left in the first quarter. Hardaway's PAT was good and the score was 9-6.

It didn't take long for Louisiana to regain the lead. On their next possession, the Rangers varied their running attack with Allen and Anthony Skinner. Both runners pushed the ball down the field until Allen scored from four yards out with 13:10 remaining in the first half. Allen added the two-point conversion and the score was 14-9.

Fourcade rallied his troops and moved his troops to the endzone with three straight completions. On his third aerial, Fourcade connected with Browne from 10 yards out with 9:59 remaining in the half. Hardaway added the extra point to make the score 16-14.

The two teams continued to trade the lead on the next possession by Louisiana. After three consecutive runs, Coleman connected with Wesley Jacob for an 11-yard score with 5:28 left to play in the half. Valencia added the PAT to make the score 21-16 and give the Rangers the lead back.

Fire Dogs general manager/head coach/quarterback John Fourcade fires a pass downfield in earlier action this season.

15 yardline by Kenny Causey. Fourcade connected with Edsel Lang for a gain of 13 yards. That set up Browne's third score of the game. Browne rumbled 24 yards for a score with 3:04 left in the half on the next play. Hardaway added the extra point to give the Fire Dogs the lead 23-21.

The lead was short-lived as Skinner scored on a 27-yard run on the first play of the possession for Louisiana. Valencia added the PAT with 2:17 left in the half and made the score 28-23.

Fourcade used the clock and Lamont Woodberry in the final two minutes of the first half. The Fire Dogs picked their way down the field pass by pass. Woodberry scored on a two-yard pass with :05 left in the half. Hardaway added the PAT to make the score 30-28. The Fire Dogs made their defensive adjustments during the intermissions and allowed just six points during the entire second half.

The Fire Dogs took over when the second half started. Fourcade picked his way to the endzone on the first possession as he connected with Kenny Causey the entire way. Causey was on the receiving end of a four-yard score with 10:36 left in the third quarter. Hardaway added the extra point to give Mississippi a 37-28 lead.

Doyle stepped up his defensive presence for the Fire Dogs and helped Mississippi shut Louisiana down during the second half of play.

Doyle forced a fumble that was recovered by Franklin Thomas of the Fire Dogs at their own five yardline. Doyle's aggressive style saved a possible Louisiana score. Doyle commented, "In the first half, they ran at me a lot. But, in the second half I didn't let them do it. I took it to them. Many teams look at me and think they can get around me. But, I look at it like it is just the running back and myself, and the best man wins. I want to be that man. As a team, we started off slow and we had some new players filling in some gaps for us. It took some time but now we are playing some good football and making our adjustments work. Next week, we have Portland coming to town. We are just going to take it to them like we have been doing the last few games."

On their next possession, Mississippi had a little trouble finding the endzone and called out Hardaway and remained perfect for the day nailing a 19-yard field goal with 4:15 left in the third quarter to make the score 39-28.

Louisiana scored their only points of the second half when Coleman connected with Joe Valencia for a three-yard scoring pass on the third play of the possession. The two-point conversion by Coleman was no good leaving the score 39-34.

Fourcade went back to the air on the Fire Dogs' next possession. After three straight completions, Fourcade found Woodberry for his second score of the night. He scored on a 12-yard pass with 14:15 left in the game. The PAT by Hardaway was good making the score 46-34.

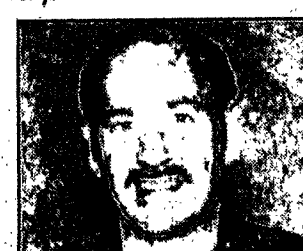

Louisiana moved the ball well against the Mississippi defense for five plays. On the sixth play, Fire Dog defensive back Terrell Sutton intercepted Coleman to help seal the win.

Glickman announces grant to improve rural drinking water at Kiln

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman Monday announced that USDA will provide over $224.6 million to improve drinking water and wastewater service in America's rural areas.

Six projects in Mississippi, totaling $7,330,745 are included in the national figure, including more than $700,000 for the Kiln Water and Fire Protection District.

"It is shocking to think that at the start of the 21st Century, during a time of unprecedented national prosperity, there are Americans who have to haul their water from open wells and streams and boil it to make it safe to drink," said Glickman.

"Investing in the safety and quality of a community's drinking water improves public health, enhances fire protection, expands economic opportunity and conserves precious natural resources."

The Clinton-Gore Administration launched the Water 2000 initiative in August 1994 to address the problem of inadequate drinking water quality and dependability in many rural areas.

Approximately 2 million rural Americans have critical drinking water problems. This includes nearly 700,000 people with no running water at all in their homes, down significantly from an estimated 1 million people without water in 1993.

An estimated 5 million additional rural residents are affected by less critical, but still significant water supply problems.

These include undersized or poorly protected water sources, lack of adequate storage facilities, and antiquated distribution systems.

Kiln Water and Fire Protection District in Hancock County received a loan of $711,700 and grant of $565,800 under the Water 2000 initiative.

The funds will be used to expand the existing water system to serve approximately 390 rural households which do not now have access to community water service.

Fire protection will be provided for approximately one-half of the new customers. A new well and booster station will be included.

The residents to be served by this project all obtain drinking water from private individual wells, which are located primarily in the shallow water table aquifer.

The Mississippi state Department of Health has for many years been concerned for the health and safety of the residents in the project area due to the potential hazards of drinking water from shallow wells in close proximity to inoperable septic tank systems or polluted canals.

These wells are subject to contamination from sewage inflow as well as saltwater intrusion due to the high ground water found in coastal areas.

This project will eliminate these hazards and will give these 390 households access to something many Americans take for granted: safe, clean water.

Other Mississippi projects receiving Water 2000 funds were Harland Creek Water Association and West Holmes Water Association in Holmes County, LuRand Utility District in Coahoma County, City of Marks in Quitman County, and North Benton Water Association in Benton County.

Under Water 2000, USDA acts as a lender of last resort, targeting investment to communities that need it most. Water 2000 projects also leverage funds from local water districts, county governments, state agencies and other federal sources to make the most effective use of all available resources.

This year, $87 million additional funds will come from these other sources.

Water 2000 has helped upgrade and expand drinking water and waste water disposal services in rural communities having some of the nation's worst water quality, quantity, and dependability problems.

The assistance package announced brings the total invested through Water 2000 to $2 billion. The total for Mississippi is more than $21 million.

Chefs of the Coast Food and Wine Festival set

The 18th annual Chefs of the Coast Food and Wine Festival will offer visitors a culinary tour of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Sept. 24 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center.

Cuisine is one the finest pleasures among visitors to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, particularly the fresh Gulf seafood prepared with various influences, including Cajun, Creole, Italian, Asian, and others.

At Chefs of the Coast, 60 restaurants will indulge guests with savory creations by serving favorite regional classics and introducing innovative specialties.

To compliment the Coast's delectable cuisine, 50 wines from vineyards around the world will be served.

Event highlights will include the Food as Art culinary competition, sponsored by the Gulf Coast chapter of the American Culinary Federation; a dessert and gourmet coffee extravaganza; and a silent auction filled with culinary gadgets, local art and jewelry, and outdoor travel and adventure packages.

"Chefs of the Coast is an Epicurean delight," said Stephen B. Richer, executive director of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Convention & Visitors Bureau.

"Everyone loves to come to stimulate their palates, while feasting on so many outstanding samples of the very best of the best cuisine in this heart of Southern fare.

It's a challenge to be self-disciplined and not overindulge on this gourmet occasion."

The Gulf Coast chapter of the Mississippi Restaurant Association produces Chefs of the Coast Food and Wine Festival.

Hours are 4-10 p.m. General admission tickets cost $60 in advance and $65 at the door.

Seafood museum plans 15th annual $10G drawdown

The Maritime & Seafood Industry Museum's 15th annual $10,000 Drawdown will be Saturday, August 12. The drawdown is the museum's major fund raiser of the year and will be held on the museum grounds at Point Cadet beginning with cocktails at 6 p.m.

The buffet, which offers many special seafood dishes, will begin at approximately 7 p.m.

Entertainment by Stevie Sekul will begin at 6 p.m. Many door prizes will be awarded throughout the night.

Tickets are being sold throughout the Coast by members of the museum, and at the Maritime & Seafood Industry Museum for $100. Four people are admitted to this very special event with each $100 ticket. Terrific food, an open bar, great entertainment, many door prizes, and a chance at winning $10,000 make it highly attractive for everyone to come out and support one of the Coast's finest cultural attractions.

Four names will be drawn from all parties who participated in the $4,000 loan program for completion of the second schooner, "Mike Sekul." These four individuals, or businesses will be paid back for their loan from proceeds of the drawdown.

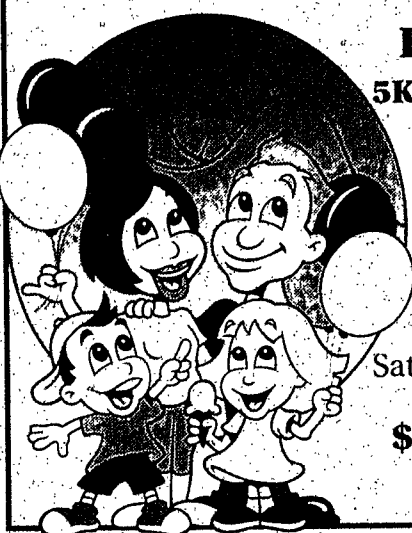

For ticket information, call the Maritime & Seafood Industry Museum at 435-6320. Only 400 tickets will be sold. Tickets must be presented to enter.
